RE: P/1223/ 21 High Street

Dear Morgan Roberts

The signage design in proposed application should be simpler with less information included. Please note that contrary to what is stated in the application form, the signage has already been installed, and to both facias, as opposed to the street facing façade only. That said, what has been installed is simpler in design than the proposed application. The applicant could submit a retrospective application for what has already been installed, unless it is proposed to be removed and replaced with proposed application, in which case our objection stands.

Yours sincerely

Paul Catherall
